In today's #vatniksoup, I'll introduce an American conspiracy theorist, lawyer and politician, Robert Kennedy Jr. (@RobertKennedyJr). He's best-known for being the nephew of JFK, and for constantly promoting conspiratorial and false information.

1/25

Robert comes from the prestigious Kennedy family, and his father was the senator and attorney general Robert F. Kennedy. He was just 9-years-old when his uncle, JFK, was assassinated. Five years later, his father was also murdered.

2/25

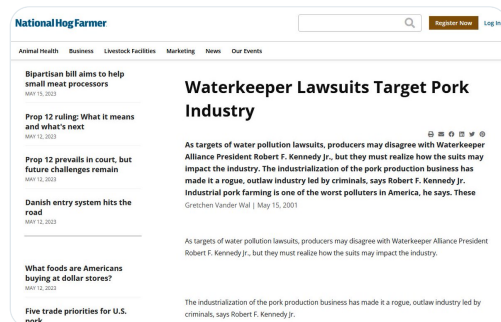

During the early 80s, Robert had to resign as the Assistant District Attorney for Manhattan after failing his bar exam. A year later he was charged with heroin possession, and went into rehab. He soon became active in the environmental justice, and started lobbying and...

Robert Kennedy Jr. launches his attempt for the Democratic presidential nomination

John F. Kennedy's nephew, who has begun his own unlikely campaign for next year's Democratic presidential nomination, has blamed the CIA for his uncle's assassination.

Conspiracy theories linking the Kennedy killing with the US security services have been around since almost the moment the president was shot dead in Dallas in November 1963.

In 2019 actor and comedian Volodymyr Zelensky ran as the peace candidate winning the Ukrainian presidency with 70% of the vote. As Benjamin Abelow observes in his brilliant book, "How the West Brought War to Ukraine," Zelensky almost certainly could have avoided the 2022 war with Russia simply by uttering five words — "I will not join NATO." But pressured by NeoCons in the Biden White House, and by violent fascist elements within the Ukrainian government, Zelensky integrated his army with NATO's and allowed the U.S. to place nuclear-capable Aegis missile launchers along Ukraine's 1,200-mile border with Russia. These were ERRATA: Apologies for my earlier tweet reporting that the U.S. had installed nuclear-capable Aegis Missile systems in Ukraine. This was incorrect. The U.S. installed the Aegis batteries in Romania and Poland. According to former top NATO military planner Col. Douglas Macgregor and historian Benjamin Abelow, the Russian government's fear that the U.S. was about to install the same systems in Ukraine was one of several national security anxieties that motivated Russia's 2022 invasion. Russia had been deeply concerned that new U.S. missile systems, deployed as close as 400 miles from Moscow, could increase the chance that, in a crisis, the U.S. might believe it could carry out a decapitating preemptive first strike.

Russia watchers have been intrigued by the recent email leak of Vladislav Surkov – Russia's adviser responsible for policies towards Ukraine and Russia's satellite states in northern Georgia. The so-called "Surkov Leaks" have reinvigorated the discussion of Moscow's involvement in the war in Ukraine and the emergence of "people's republics" in the east of the country. The leaks confirm the Kremlin's involvement in the armed conflict in the Donbas, and make clear that fueling the conflict in east Ukraine is just one part of Moscow's broader policy for undermining the Ukrainian state.

Assistant US Secretary of State Victoria Nuland filed accusations of misinformation against the Russian media. According to her, in Kiev she distributed not cookies, but sandwiches, not only to the protesters, but also to the Berkut fighters.

Nuland became famous for her active involvement in Ukrainian internal affairs during the February 2014 coup d'état. Many people remember how she fed Maidan activists and nationalists with cookies.

But more surprising, perhaps, is the praise for Kennedy in certain quarters of the far left. The Grayzone's Max Blumenthal and Aaron Maté, who once reported for outlets such as The Nation and Democracy Now! but have drifted to the conspiratorial fringe in recent years, last week celebrated Kennedy's supposed "anti-imperialist" opposition to American aid for Ukraine and argued that he threatens the "pro-war" and "pro-censorship" leadership of the Democratic Party. David Talbot, the founder of Salon, does not share Blumenthal and Maté's sympathy for war criminals like Vladimir Putin and Bashar Al Assad, but he has endorsed Kennedy for similar reasons, writing that "neocoon bureaucrats and propagandists have flocked to the Democratic Party" and that Kennedy threatens those "vested interests." Briahna Joy Gray, co-host of The Hill's show Rising and former press secretary for Bernie Sanders, favorably compared Kennedy to her former boss, calling the candidate an "outsider" who presents a chance to "topple the corporate duopoly."
